

Nominations for 2023 are now open!

The Colorado Homes & Lifestyles Circle of Excellence Awards honor individuals who have had especially significant careers in residential design in Colorado. A small number of architects, interior designers and landscape architects whose work, influence and community involvement set them at the pinnacle of their profession are inducted into the Circle of Excellence at an annual ceremony in March.

RULES

- A separate entry must be submitted for each nominee.
- Individuals may be nominated either by members of the design community or the general public. Self-nomination is encouraged.
- All entries must be sent to awards@chlmi.com by 5 p.m. MDT on Friday, December 9, 2022.

NOMINATIONS CRITERIA

- Nominees must be residential design professionals in one of the following categories: Architecture; Interior Design; Landscape Architecture and Design; Specialty Design (such as kitchen or bath design).
- Nominees must primarily live, work, or have a fully staffed office in Colorado.
- Nominees must have made significant and noteworthy contributions to the growth and prominence of the residential design field in Colorado.
- The nominee's body of work must be of the very highest quality. Demonstration of this can be through publication, industry awards and peer recognition, or other evidence.

MATERIAL SUBMISSION

- All nominees must complete the submission form with the following info:
- 500 words discussing design philosophy, leadership, mentoring, and community service.
 - Brief descriptions and professional photos of 4-5 representative projects located in Colorado. No renderings please.
 - Material should be submitted via email or other electronic service such as Hightail or Dropbox, no later than Dec. 9, 2022 at 5 pm. Please do not mail hardcopy documents or photos; they will not be forwarded to the judges or returned.
 - All nomination support material should be compiled into a single document such as a PDF; please do not send a large number of separate files.

SELECTION PROCESS

- The selection committee will use all nomination materials submitted by deadline for the first round of evaluations.
- Selected finalists may be contacted in December for additional material in support of their candidacy. The selection committee will then meet to make its final choices, and the 2023 inductees to the Colorado Homes & Lifestyles Circle of Excellence will be announced in January 2023 and featured in our March/April issue.
